

EMERGENCY MEDICINE PHYSICIAN OPPORTUNITIES

Department of Emergency Medicine · Michael Garron Hospital · Toronto, Ontario, Canada

2026 Fall Hiring Cycle · Full- and Part-Time Practice Plan Track Positions

About Us — Department of Emergency Medicine

Michael Garron Hospital (MGH), formerly Toronto East General Hospital, is one of Ontario's leading community teaching hospitals and one of the fastest-growing, busiest single-site Emergency Departments in the province. Our ED serves more than 110,000 patients a year from a catchment of over 450,000 residents across a number of vibrant, distinct East Toronto communities spanning a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds. MGH ED is a full-service department caring for patients of all ages — 20% of our patients are children — supported by a team of 47 support staff, 142 nurses, and 64 front-line clinicians (a mix of CCFP-EM and FRCPC physicians) dedicated to meeting the needs of our diverse community.

Why Join MGH?

We are proud of our strong team of clinicians dedicated to supporting our community and each other. We have proudly served the diverse, multicultural population of East Toronto since 1929, offering an extensive range of inpatient, outpatient, and community-based programs and services. We are the Heart of the East.

The Physician We're Looking For

We're looking for emergency physicians who bring skills that further complement our team: clinicians with strong clinical acumen, a genuine interest in advancing emergency care through technology and innovation, and a real commitment to the compassionate care of the vulnerable and diverse patient populations we serve. Whether your strength is bedside teaching, resuscitation leadership, digital health, or community-oriented care, we want to hear how you would contribute to our team.

Highlights

- Well recognized for high-quality emergency care in a highly supportive environment
- High-performing team with a strong focus on patient care and innovation-driven process improvement
- New dedicated pediatric zone
- Newly renovated resuscitation space
- Newly renovated, secure ED mental health unit
- Digital health technology pilots, including an AI scribe program
- Strong interprofessional supports: ED geriatric nursing, orthopedic technicians, child life specialists, and patient navigators
- Highly competitive alternate funding arrangement, with modifiers built in to support our high-volume site
- Education Practice Plan
- Highly affordable housing options in East York and surrounding areas
- An extremely collegial, engaged, and supportive team
- Advanced formal wellness program, peer support program, mentorship opportunities, and buddy shifts

Positions Available

Applications are invited for full-time and part-time Practice Plan Track positions (minimum 8 shifts per month) within the Department of Emergency Medicine, as part of Michael Garron Hospital's annual Fall hiring cycle.

How to Apply

Deadline & Contacts

- Applications may be submitted at any time; the firm deadline for submission is September 11, 2026.
- Please submit your application to both: Kyle.Vojdani@tehn.ca and Amanda.Fitzgibbon@tehn.ca

Please Include

- A personal letter of intent
- Curriculum vitae (CV)

It Strengthens Your Application to Speak To, As Applicable

- Education
- Prior work experience in Emergency Medicine
- Research and scholarly contributions to medicine / emergency medicine
- Area and extent of special competency training pertinent to Emergency Medicine
- Leadership roles
- Extra-clinical contributions to Emergency Medicine
- Awards of distinction
- Prior significant work or volunteer experience outside of medicine
- Whether your background or experience is currently underrepresented in our group — and how it would add value to our leadership and clinical care in Toronto
- Fluency in languages in addition to English
- Attributes that make you well suited to the practice of Emergency Medicine
- The role you envisage for yourself within our group
- Shift commitments
- Start date
- Primary or secondary site goals
- Professional interests

Next Steps

- Applicants will be informed whether they have been selected for an interview within 3 weeks of submission.
- Interviews for successful applicants will be held in September. Virtual interviews are available, though in-person is preferred.
- If granted an interview, two reference letters are required (one from a Program Director or Department Chief).
- Employment offers will be sent in early October.

Questions & More Information

Thank you for considering the Department of Emergency Medicine at Michael Garron Hospital. We have a dynamic, collegial group and an exciting work environment — we can't wait to welcome new members to the MGH ED family.

For further questions, please contact Amanda Fitzgibbon, Physician Administrative Coordinator, Emergency Medicine, MGH, at Amanda.Fitzgibbon@tehn.ca.

Sincerely,

Emergency Department Selection Committee, Michael Garron Hospital